DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 14, 19-20, 51, 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e or b) as being anticipated by Elson et al. USPN 6,248,077 or Barker USPN 4,476,877. Elson teaches asystem in figure 1 that comprises a sterile medical fluid 31 in a container, a fitting (25 and opposite end) figure 2 a passageway 89, a connection port 91, a thermally conductive receptacle 95, and a temperature sensor 115 in the form of a thermistor for electronically producing a signal capable of being displayed. A securing member 23 has a recess for receiving the sensor and a locking mechanism 123 for securing the sensor to the port.

Similarly Barker teaches a fluid container 12,a fitting (25 and opposite end) figure 2 a passageway 24 a connection port 30, a thermally conductive receptacle 28, and a temperature sensor 32 in the form of a thermistor for electronically producing a signal capable of being displayed. A securing member 55 has a recess for receiving the sensor and a locking mechanism with internal thread 50 for securing the sensor to the port.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15-16, 52, 59-64 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over by Elson et al. USPN 6,248,077 or Barker USPN 4,476,877 in view of Hudspeth et al USPN 3940742. Elson and Barker are silent as to whether the temperature sensed by their respective cardiac output monitors is display, recorder or otherwise printed however to have done so for further reference at a later date would have been obvious. Monitoring displaying recording and printing hard copies of sensed temperatures is considered notoriously old and obvious as evidenced by Hudspeth.

Claims 14-16, 19-20, 51-52, 55 and 59-64 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Buckstein 1,479,451 in view of Barker USPN 4,476877 and Hudspeth et al USPN 3940742. To have used the Barker fluid temperature sensor system in the Buckstein device for measuring temperatures of fluids would have been obvious since Barker teaches his temperature sensor system can be used in other fluid systems (column 5 lines 7-12) for measuring temperature and allowing the sensor to be reusable. To have added the functions of printing and recording would have been well known to those of ordinary skill in the art as evidenced by Hudspeth.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 14-16, 19-20, 51-52, 55, 59-64 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mark W Bockelman whose telephone number is (571) 272-4941. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 8:00 to 4:30.
